

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

It's time for a feast.

Learning Outcome

Describe routines and regular activities in a wider range of social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- Do you ever make dinner for your family?
- If you do, what do you cook?

Can Do Statements

- I can discuss eating habits.
- I can express what is necessary.
- I can talk about quantities and amounts.

Let's Explore!

Vanessa is cooking up a storm

* To do something quickly with intense effort like a "storm".

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Peter: Hey, Vanessa. What's up?
- Vanessa: Oh, I'm cooking up a storm because my family is coming over. So, I've gotta keep going, otherwise the meal won't be ready.
- Peter: Oh, I've got to make a meal too. John and Sandra are coming over. I've just gotta ask you some questions.
- Vanessa: OK.
- Peter: How much red wine should I put into a quart of tomato pasta sauce?
- Vanessa: Oh, not too much. 4 fluid ounces is plenty.
- Peter: My parents like espresso. How much coffee do I use?
- Vanessa: Three-quarters of an ounce is enough for a single shot.
- Peter: Thanks. So what're you making?
- Vanessa: Oh, I'm making roasted chicken legs. My dad loves to grab those with his fingers. And grilled veggies, and tiramisu for dessert.
- Peter: I used to have tiramisu a lot. Well, I need to plan my meal.
- Vanessa: Yup! And I'd better marinate the chicken before it goes in the oven. Good luck, Peter.
- Peter: You too, but I know you don't need any luck. Say hi to your family.

Let's practice!

What's for dinner?

Instructions: Read the dialogue on page 2 again. Circle the correct answer.

1. What's Vanessa making for dinner?
 - a. roast beef, mashed potato, fresh vegetables
 - b. roast chicken, grilled veggies, dessert
 - c. roast chicken, garlic fries, grilled veggies
2. How much coffee does Peter need for an espresso shot?
 - a. three ounces
 - b. $\frac{3}{4}$ of an ounce
 - c. 4 fluid ounces

Let's practice!

What have Vanessa and Peter got to do next?

Instructions: Match the sentences in Column A with their corresponding missing part in Column B.

COLUMN A

1. I've got to keep going
2. I've got to make a meal
3. I'd better marinate the chicken
4. You'll need

COLUMN B

- a. $\frac{3}{4}$ oz of coffee for a single espresso shot.
- b. otherwise the meal won't be ready.
- c. before it goes in the oven.
- d. because John and Sandra are coming over.

Extension Activity

Let's learn how to make a cappuccino.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Research how to make a cappuccino.
- Read English barista web pages, or watch videos in English.
- Write a dialogue where you show your partner how to make the cappuccino.
- Include quantities and amounts in your instructions.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I research how to make a cappuccino. I read English instructions and watch videos in English.

☐ ☐

Write a dialogue giving instructions on how to make the coffee.

☐ ☐

I express quantities and amounts.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- to come over (verb): to invite a friend to come over to your house for a visit e.g. Vanessa is cooking because her family is coming over for dinner.
- fluid ounce (noun): the measurement for fluids used in the U.S. and the U.K., which is equal to 30 ml.
e.g. You should put in 4 fluid ounces of red wine into a quart of tomato pasta sauce.
- espresso (noun): strong tasting coffee made from fine grounds and water pushed with pressure.
e.g. Peter asked how much coffee he should use to make espresso.
- single shot (noun): one fluid ounce of espresso
e.g. Three-quarters of an ounce is a good amount of coffee to use for a single shot of espresso.
- grilled (adjective): to cook food over a heated grill
e.g. Vegetables cooked over a grill taste very different.
- to marinate (verb): to put spices and/or a sauce on raw meat for a long time before cooking
e.g. Vanessa wanted to marinate the chicken before it went in the oven.

Learning Points

Questions to ask about quantities

You use "How much" and "How many" to ask about quantities.

Use "How much?" for uncountable nouns.

Structure:

How much + uncountable noun + auxiliary + subject + main verb + complement + ?

Examples:

How much coffee do I use? 4 fluid ounces is plenty.

How much red wine should I put into a quart of tomato pasta sauce? Three-quarters of an ounce.

Use "How many?" for countable nouns.

Structure:

How many + countable noun + auxiliary + subject + main verb + complement + ?

Examples:

How many chicken legs do you need? I need a lot! How many peppers are you going to use for the grilled veggies? I'm going to use only a few.

