

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Let's talk about eating and other customs in another culture.

Learning Outcome

Identify and describe personal and regional eating habits and cooking in a range of communicative situations.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about celebrations and customs.
- I can talk about people's past habits.
- I can talk about what is necessary.

Ask your partner:

- What food from another culture do you enjoy?
- Did you ever eat at a wedding from another culture? Did you like it?

Let's Explore!

Peter and Sally enjoyed a satisfying meal at Vanessa's.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Sally: Oh, I'm so full. I can't eat any more.
Peter: I've got to stop eating. Thank you, Vanessa. That was a scrumptious meal.
Vanessa: Well, I'm glad you guys enjoyed it. It's too bad John and Sandra couldn't come.
Sally: They're going to have to come over some other time to experience your cooking.
Peter: I'll need to do a workout at the gym tomorrow.
Vanessa: I used to go to the gym before I started this job. I would work out four times a week.
Sally: Did you know that Indian Hindu wedding celebrations go on for days? Imagine the continuous feast.
Peter: I used to have a roommate who was Indian. She and her family would eat meals with their fingers. That seems much easier.
Sally: The Greeks also have elaborate wedding parties with a lot of food and dancing.
Vanessa: Imagine if an Indian married a Greek.
Peter: I would try to get invited to that wedding.
Sally: We've got to have ice cream still.
Peter: There is always space for a little ice cream.

Let's practice!

Wouldn't it be nice to attend a wedding from another culture?

Instructions: Fill in the gaps using the words from the box to correctly complete the sentences.

Word Bank

wedding / eat / fast / waiting / dancing / dancers / feast / elaborate

1. Indian Hindu _____ celebrations go on for days.
2. Imagine the continuous _____ at an Indian wedding.
3. The Greeks also have _____ wedding parties.
4. Greek people enjoy _____ at their wedding parties.
5. The Greeks _____ a lot of food at the weddings too.

Let's practice!

What did Vanessa and Peter use to do?

Instructions: Match the sentences from column A with the sentences from column B to complete them correctly.

COLUMN A

1. Vanessa used to go to the gym
2. Vanessa would work out
3. Peter used to have
4. Peter's old roommate would

COLUMN B

- a. 4 times a week.
- b. before she started her job.
- c. a roommate who was indian.
- d. eat meals with his fingers.

Extension Activity

Research and learn about weddings in another culture.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Research Hindu wedding customs or Greek wedding customs.
- Find 5 unique points about their celebration.
- Write your own sentences about these customs.
- Find a partner who researched different customs.
- Read your sentences to each other, and discuss the differences in customs.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I research wedding customs in other cultures.

☐ ☐

I select unique points within my research topic.

☐ ☐

I write complete statements from my research information.

☐ ☐

I discuss differences in cultural practices.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- scrumptious (adjective): describes food that tastes very good e.g. Peter enjoyed a scrumptious meal prepared by Vanessa.
- workout (noun): an exercise routine
e.g. It's good to do a workout the day after a big meal.
- to experience (verb): to do or feel something e.g. Peter thinks everyone should experience Vanessa's wonderful cooking.
- continuous (adjective): non-stop for a period of time
e.g. To attend a one-week Indian wedding celebration is like going to a continuous feast.
- elaborate (adjective): arranged or planned with great detail
e.g. The Greeks often have elaborate wedding celebrations with a lot of dancing.
- Greek (noun): people from the country of Greece
e.g. Greek people love to have celebrations outdoors because the weather is always pleasant.

Learning Points

Expressing Necessity

"Have got to" is used to express necessity.

"Going to have to" expresses a necessary action in the future or a condition.

"Have got to" has irregular forms in the past and future.

"Going to have to" also expresses a necessary action in the future. It's also used as a conditional for a resulting action. Look at the chart below.

Present	I have got to go to the gym before dinner.
Past	I had to go to the gym before dinner.
Future (will)	I will have to go to the gym after dinner.
Future (going to)	I'm going to have to go to the gym more often.
Conditional	Because I ate so much, I'm going to have to go to the gym tomorrow.

What did you used to do?

"Used to" and "would" express a pattern of action that occurred regularly in the past.

Examples:

- How did you used to get to school before you got a bicycle?
- I used to get up really early to take the bus.
- I used to get up early, and I would take my bike out of the locker.
- I would put on my helmet and ride all the way to school.

